Expanded Partnership Increases Access to Unified, Intelligent Radiologist Desktops for Radiology Practices

Tampa, FL and Wayne, NJ, May 20, 2025 –NewVue, a leader in cloud-native radiology workflow solutions, today announced the expansion of its partnership with Konica Minolta Healthcare Americas, Inc. from a referral agreement to a formal reseller relationship. Under the new agreement, Konica Minolta Healthcare will directly offer NewVue’s flagship EmpowerSuite platform to radiology practices across the United States, providing its customers with access to a next-generation, AI-driven radiology workflow orchestrator.

EmpowerSuite modernizes the radiologist experience by consolidating tools, data and workflows into a single intelligent interface. EmpowerSuite is designed to reduce radiologist burnout, simplify IT operations, and deliver scalable, efficient workflows for radiology practices of all sizes. A cornerstone of the platform is the Radiologist Cockpit, a uniquely integrated user interface that brings together personalized worklists, AI insights, clinical context, communication tools, and quality workflows—streamlining the reading experience and improving clinical focus.

With a unified Radiologist Cockpit and tight integration to the Exa® Viewer, EmpowerSuite ensures radiologists have everything they need at their fingertips—allowing them to spend more time focusing on the images and less time navigating fragmented systems. The solution has seen growing adoption among practices seeking a more cohesive, intuitive, and efficient desktop environment.

“Expanding our relationship with Konica Minolta reflects a shared vision and culture—both companies are committed to modernizing radiology through intelligent automation and thoughtful design,” said Kyle Lawton, CEO of NewVue. “This agreement gives more radiology practices access to EmpowerSuite, including our Radiologist Cockpit—a uniquely integrated solution that’s seeing strong adoption among groups looking to deliver everything a radiologist needs in one cohesive, intelligent desktop.”

“Our customers are increasingly seeking cloud-native, interoperable solutions that support growth without adding IT complexity,” said Kevin Chlopecki, Chief Operating Officer of Konica Minolta Healthcare. “By becoming a reseller of NewVue’s EmpowerSuite, we are better positioned to meet those needs and support practices in modernizing their imaging operations with truly intelligent workflow orchestration.”

Through this expanded partnership, NewVue and Konica Minolta Healthcare are working together to help radiology practices improve operational performance, elevate the radiologist experience, and embrace modern, scalable technology—without the need to rip and replace existing infrastructure.
